O CANADA

RECESSIONAL Fanfare & Ceremony, by John Cacavas

At the close of Convocation, following the singing of O Canada, the audience is asked to remain standing until the Academic Procession has left. Following the ceremony, graduates, guests, and the public are cordially invited to attend the Tree Planting in the area between the Thomas J. Condon Student Centre and the Sir James Dunn Residence, and the Convocation Tea in the Baird Dining Room.

THE CONVOCATION PROCESSION

The word "convocation" means "calling together," and UNB's convocation is truly a gathering of all individuals who are part of the University – students, professors, administrators, staff, alumni, families, and friends. The ceremony starts with the procession of students, special guests, faculty, members of the Senate and of the Board of Governors, the honorary degree recipient(s), the Chancellor, the President and the Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

LATIN IN THE CEREMONY

Although Latin has long ceased to be the language of instruction for all university courses, as it once was at Oxford and Cambridge, at Paris, and Bologna, it is traditional to retain it for limited use on occasions of great academic solemnity, such as university convocations. The use of Latin today is a symbol of our academic descent from these earliest universities of mediaeval Europe and a humble reminder that the search for truth is both new and ancient.

HONORARY CLASS GRADUATE

The Honorary Degree Recipient (presented by Judith Buchanan, Campus Orator)

PHYLLIS B. LAMBERT

Phyllis Lambert, 'dreamer of great dreams,' is an architect, researcher, collector, heritage activist, author and editor, historian and museum builder, photographer, and educator. Her public accolades include Fellow of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, Officer of the Order of Canada, and Officer of the Ordre des Arts et Lettres from the Government of France. These honours and distinctions, and countless others, arise from her passions – for architecture, for sculpture, and for humane and livable cities.

Throughout her career, Phyllis Lambert has achieved many well-earned architectural victories, culminating in the Canadian Centre for Architecture, an exceptional museum in Montréal dedicated to the celebration of architecture as an art and "as research rather than as commerce." It has often been said that she is the Canadian Centre for Architecture, and indeed that Madame Lambert "willed" the Centre into being. Her ideals, her determination, her energy and her deeply considered views of the world's built environment have all become part of the fabric of this internationally renowned treasurehouse for architecture.

She sees architecture as an expression of society in terms of its social, political, cultural and aesthetic lessons. She believes that "it doesn't make sense to let the urban fabric deteriorate . . . It doesn't make sense to lose those wonderful moments in our history that are so important in terms of knowing who we are." She believes that "every effort must be made to enrich rather than impoverish our society," and has been a strong defender of certain threatened components of the architectural history of New Brunswick.

Would that we assembled could see and sense the history of Saint John through Phyllis Lambert's eyes. She has written that "in a world fraught with violence and alienation, places with the integrity of Fredericton, (and indeed Saint John which is 'Glasgow' to Fredericton's 'Edinburgh') are more and more needed and respected . . . Such civil places are essential to the definition of New Brunswick and Canada."

Today the University of New Brunswick honours the achievements, the vision and the humanity of Phyllis B. Lambert whom I present to be Doctor of Letters, honoris causa.

ACADEMIC DRESS

All graduates and members of the academic procession are attired in the basic elements of academic dress – the academic robe, hood and the mortar board or the Tudor hat. The dress worn by each participant depends upon the academic level attained, with special attire for Bachelors, Masters and Doctors. While tradition has indicated the style or cut of the academic attire, each university will amend certain details to suit its own particular tastes and traditions. Following is a guide to UNB's ceremonial dress.

GOWNS

Undergraduates	- Plain black stuff, sleeveless
Bachelors	- Black stuff falling below knee, with full sleeves reaching to the wrist and terminating in a point
Masters	- Black silk or stuff falling below knee, with long sleeves with semi-circular cut bottom
