HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

The Honourable Roy J. Romanow Doctor of Laws

The Honourable Roy J. Romanow was born, raised, and educated in Saskatoon where he graduated from the University of Saskatchewan with Arts and Law Degrees. In 1967, he was elected to the Saskatchewan Legislature and between 1971 and 1982, he served as Deputy Premier of Saskatchewan as well as Attorney General. During that time he was responsible for the introduction of a number of justice system reforms, including: the introduction of a provincial legal aid plan; the creation of the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission; the introduction of a Saskatchewan Human Rights Code; and the creation of the Provincial Ombudsman's Office.

In 1979, Dr. Romanow was appointed Saskatchewan's first Minister of Intergovernmental Affairs and played a key role in the federal-provincial negotiations which resulted in the Constitutional Accord of November, 1981. In 1984, he co-authored a book on those negotiations entitled Canada Notwithstanding. In addition to this national work, he also served as a member on the Canadian Medical Association Task Force on the Allocation of Health Care Resources from 1983 to 1985.

On November 7, 1987 Dr. Romanow was acclaimed Leader of the Saskatchewan New Democratic party and was elected Premier on October 21, 1991 with a 55 seat majority government. He assumed the duties of Premier on November 1, 1991. Romanow's government introduced a number of fiscal, economic and social reforms including an expansion of the Action Plan for Children, the introduction of the Building Independence strategy to help move families off social assistance, and enhancements to the provincial health care system. Dr. Romanow retired from politics in February 2001.

In April 2001, Dr. Romanow was appointed a Senior Fellow in Public Policy at the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Regina, and is also a visiting Fellow in the School of Policy Studies at Queen's University. On April 4 2001, Roy Romanow was also appointed by Prime Minister Jean Chrétien to head the Commission on the Future of Health Care in Canada to recommend policies and measures to ensure the long-term sustainability of a universally accessible, high quality, publicly-administered health care system.

ABOUT THE CONVOCATION CEREMONY

The Convocation Procession

The word "convocation" means "calling together," and UNB's convocation is truly a gathering of all individuals who are part of the University – students, professors, administrators, staff, alumni, families, and friends. The ceremony starts with the procession of students, special guests, faculty, members of the Senate and of the Board of Governors, the honorary degree recipient, the President and Vice-Chancellor, and the Chancellor.

The Stage

All of the formalities around convocation take place on the stage. The stage is occupied by representatives of the Federal, Provincial and Municipal governments, the University's Chancellor, the President and Vice-Chancellor, members of the University's Board of Governors, University officials such as Vice-Presidents, Deans and Directors, University alumni, those holding emeritus status and the honorary degree recipients. The flags at the back of the stage represent the countries that are home to the international students currently studying at UNB Saint John. The banners next to the stage represent the various faculties and/or schools in which students may study at UNB Saint John.

Academic Dress

It is part of the ceremony to wear the academic dress of the institution. It is for this reason that all of the students wear the gown, hood and cap, as do most of the University's faculty and officials. At UNB Saint John, the University's alumni are also invited to wear their academic attire and join the procession.

Latin in the Ceremony

"Although Latin has long ceased to be the language of instruction for all university courses, it is traditional to retain it for limited use on occasions of great academic solemnity, such as university convocations. The use of Latin today is a symbol of our academic descent from these earliest universities of mediaeval Europe and a humble reminder that the search for truth is both new and ancient." (TJC)

The Ceremonial Mace

The mace symbolizes the authority of the University to award degrees. Introduced in 1996, UNB's ceremonial mace features an antique silver cup atop a wooden shaft. The George II two-handled cup was given to the University in 1995 by S.A.H. Bridge, the great-great-grandson of Sir Howard Douglas, Bart. Sir Howard, Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick from 1823 to 1831, was instrumental in gaining the University's Royal charter.

The shaft was created by New Brunswick artisan Michiel Oudemans. Crafted from butternut, a wood indigenous to the province, it features elements of the UNB coat of arms and symbols of New Brunswick: the University motto, Sapere aude (Dare to know); a book of learning; beavers (in honour of Lord Beaverbrook, the University's first modern-day Chancellor); a galley; fiddleheads; and Atlantic salmon.

The mace is carried in the procession by the University Secretary.

ACADEMIC DRESS

All graduates and members of the academic procession are attired in the basic elements of academic dress – the academic robe, the hood, and the mortar board of Tudor hat. The dress worn by each participant depends upon the academic level attained, with special attire for Bachelors, Masters, and Doctors. While tradition has indicated the style or cut of the academic attire, each university amends certain details to suit its particular tastes and traditions.

Following is a guide to UNB's ceremonial dress:

GOWNS

Undergraduates	Plain black stuff, sleeveless
Bachelors	Black stuff falling below knee, with full sleeves reaching to the wrist and terminating in a point
Masters	Black silk or stuff falling below knee, with long sleeves with semi-circular cut bottom
Doctors	Scarlet cloth, faced with silk of the same colour as the lining of the hood worn
